BUILD AN ON-DEMAND POKER GAMING APP.

Customer Overview

Client is a company led by women for women with the mission of teaching one million women how to play the game of poker – and how the skills and strategies learned translate to career acceleration and success.

Client wants an app specially designed for women and also looking for the possibilities of having amazing features of learning and playing the game at the same time.

Problem Statement

100

Million people play poker, but only

9%

Are women

$88

Billion is spent on corporate training and development across the United States.

67%

women still said they need more support to become leaders.

Client wants a customized poker game app where women can learn, play, grow and compete. Including the minigames where user can get all the add-on features like- Virtual lessons, bit-sized content and no money game.

Our Solution

We Linkites are developing the Poker game app for the women so they can learn and play the game. In this application, the teacher and observer play very significant roles. The teacher can halt the game and instruct the players on how to play it properly. If the table is full, players can still watch the game in progress. The team is now working on minigames that will provide knowledge of the poker game, so this app is still under development with the additional features the client has requested.

Key Features We Kept in mind When Developing Poker Game App:

- Multilingual Support
- Engaging and Easy to Play
- Multilingual Support
- Live Chat with Audio and video call Support

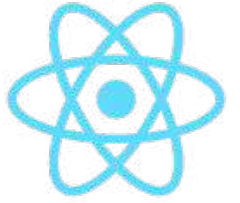

Positive outcome

Excellent user experience and fun filled game made the customers engage more and allow them to upgrade their skills just by playing poker. Knowing the importance of learning, the app teaches so many women how to play Texas Hold 'em to compete and succeed in business, finance, and life – all in a fun, supportive, and safe-to-fail environment.
